USING GenDisasters.com REVEALS OFTEN FORGOTTEN TRAGEDIES, DISASTERS, AND MISFORTUNES EXPERIENCED BY OUR ANCESTORS

By Carol Uhal

In the Fall 2019 issue of Capers, we introduced readers to the website GenDisasters.com which can provide genealogists with important information about all kinds of tragedies, disasters—natural and man-made—as well as various misfortunes that our ancestors may have endured. The site is organized by state and then by the names of communities within the state. It also includes records from Canada, organized by province. After locating the community, the researcher can then see what kind of disasters happened and when. Alternatively, the site can be searched by year or by the type of disaster, or by entering keywords into the search box. Clicking on a disaster will then take the researcher to a transcription of a newspaper article covering the disaster. Interestingly, the newspaper reporting the story is not always a local newspaper. GenDisasters.com relies on the public to submit article transcriptions which can result in a researcher having access to reports that may otherwise go undiscovered.

Articles selected to appear in this issue of Capers range in time from 1893 to 1921 and come from numerous Michigan localities. The articles cover a variety of events, thereby providing a sampling of what the site offers.

While researching a family tragedy involving the deaths by asphyxiation of several of my first cousins, once removed, I stumbled across this web site in one of those fortuitous accidents of genealogy. The site enabled me to find answers to questions that spiraled in my mind for decades, shrouded in misinformation and confusion. I hope you use the site and find it as helpful—rewarding even—as I did.

LEAPS FROM FAST TRAIN AND IS SEVERELY HURT

Student Makes Jump and Strikes Head on Rail.

Frank S. Towsley, a student who resides at 1309 Wilmot street and who hails from Midland, Mich, was severely injured yesterday afternoon when he jumped from the M. C .train at leaves here for the west at 2:30.

Mr. Towsley was at the depot selling Gargoyles, a student publication, to the students who were leaving for their homes to spend the Christmas holidays. He was in the train disposing of the copies when the train started, and before he could get to the rear of the coach the train had a good start. However this did not prevent Towsley from jumping from the train as it neared the curve at the Economy paper baler factory. The train was going at the rate of 25 miles and hour, and the student fell striking his head on the rail. The accident was witnessed by a number of section hands, who took the injured man into the Economy paper baler factory and there his wound was bound up, and George Langford head of the company took him in his auto to the health service rooms where he was cared for. This morning he was reported getting along finely although rather stiff and sore.

Town of Ypsilanti Swept by a Cyclone

Ypsilanti, Mich., April 13, 1893—A terrific cyclone struck Ypsilanti at 7:15 last night, passing through the business streets from southwest to northwest. The residence of William Knizely was blown off its foundation. Curtis' wagon and carriage factory, the business college, Draper Opera House, Hawkins house and several other buildings were demolished. Along Congress street, the principal street of the city, for two blocks signs and awnings were blown down and almost every plate glass front on the north side of the street was smashed. On Huron street, the Laible block containing the postoffice (sic) and four stores were riddled. The roof of the building was blown into the street and several houses opposite were damaged by flying debris. Crossing the river the cyclone unroofed the residence of Jonathan Vorhees on River street, and blew another house off its foundation. Farther eastward, Dr. Moore's house and barn were overturned. The wind lasted ten minutes, and although the streets were filled with people only a few minutes before no serious accident is reported. As soon as the wind subsided the electric lights were shut off to avoid a fire. The streets are filled with wreckage, fallen trees and debris of all kinds.

April 12, 1893 Cyclone moved this private residence off its foundation. The house was repaired and still stands at 113 North Street, on the northwest corner of North and Lincoln Streets. Inscription on back of photo indicates "Occupants were in house at the time but no one hurt".

Yipsilanti (sic), Mich., April 13, 1893—Almost the entire population of this city is working the streets clearing away the debris, which remains as the visible result of last night's cyclone. The leading streets are impassable. As far as can be ascertained today, no one was seriously injured. The cyclone cut a swath two blocks wide. The damage done is estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

Damage at Royal Oak

At Royal Oak the cyclone grazed the village, leveling everything in its path. The residence of Christian Brick was torn to pieces and the wreck took fire. His three children escaped but Brick and his wife were burned to death. A number of houses were badly wrecked. The total damage is yet unknown.

SLAIN BY A FALLING ROOF

Its Collapse on a New Theatre In Detroit Buries Workman.

OVER HALF A SCORE KILLED.

Nearly Twenty men are Injured – The Roof Fell Without Warning and Buried the Workmen Beneath the Ruins – Not a Man Escaped Unwounded – The Building Was Uncompleted.

DETROIT, Mich. (Special). – The new five-story Wonderland Theatre Building is now in ruins, and fifteen lives have been sacrificed by an appalling accident, which occurred therein Saturday afternoon.

Shortly before 2 o'clock, while some thirty-five men were at work in various parts of the unfinished theatre, the roof fell in without a second's warning. Nearly every workman was carried down into the theatre pit, the top gallery was crushed down upon the lower gallery, forming a slope, down which slid broken steel girders, planks, timbers, brick and a great quantity of cement from the roof, and carrying along a struggling mass of men into the pit below. Very few of the workmen escaped injury. The front wall of the building remained intact, but the east wall bulged and threatened to fall.

Some of the dead are:
JOHN CRESCELSKI, laborer; JAMES GEGERACHKO, lather; AUGUST JANUSCHOWASKI, laborer; CORNELIUS McCARRON, lather; THEODORE MARTENS, laborer; AUGUST SALLUCH, laborer; MARTIN SHAFER, painter; GEORGE W. WHITE, tinner; PETER CONNORS, lather; JACOB LOWEN, metal Polisher; FRANK WOLFE and _____ BETTS, cornice makers, and O. MULLEN.

Nearly a score of workingmen were injured, and out of this number two are considered as unlikely to recover.
The cause of the catastrophe seems to have been too much weight on the roof and faulty steel beams used in its construction. The top of the roof was of cement about eight inches thick, and many builders lean to the opinion that his was too heavy for the supporting steel work. Others claim that the fault lies in the steel work, which, they allege, was of poor quality. Several of the beams snapped off sharp, instead of bending.

The walls, steel work and roof were the only completed portions of the Wonderland, without floors or interior finish. The property is owned by PATRICK WIGGINS, partner of JAMES H. MOORE in his combined theatre and museum enterprises.

LITTLE ONES PERISH

AN ORPHANAGE AT BATTLE CREEK, MICH., DESTROYED BY FIRE AND THREE OF THE YOUNG INMATES LOST THEIR LIVES.

SEVEN LITTLE GIRLS JUMPED FROM THE THIRD STORY WINDOWNS—JAMES ARMSTRONG, BUT 12 YEARS OLD, GOES INTO THE HERO CLASS ON HIS MERITS.

Battle Creek, Mich., Feb. 5—The Haskell Memorial Home, the property on the Seventh Day Adventists, a orphanage, located near the western boundary of this city, was destroyed by fire today. Three of the thirty-seven little inmates of the orphanage are missing, and it is believed they perished in the flames.
The missing are:
LENA McFERNEY, aged fourteen
CECIL QUOTENT, aged thirteen
GEORGE GOODENOW, aged eight years
In the panic following the alarm of the fire, seven little girls leaped from the windows on the third floor of the institution. It is not thought that any of these seven are fatally injured although RUTH ROFF, one of those who in her fright, made the jump, is believed to have injured her spine.
JAMES ARMSTRONG, twelve years of age, made a hero of himself by standing on a shed under one of the windows of the burning building, directing the panic-stricken children how to make their jump as easy as possible and seeking to calm their fears. He actually caught two of the smaller girls in his arms.
MRS. OWEN, whose husband is in charge of the institution fought her way down a stairway which was a mass of flames, carrying a six weeks old baby, with two little girls clinging to her skirts. The flames fanned by a strong wind, spread rapidly and the building was soon doomed. The loss will exceed $50,000.

MINERS SMOTHERED IN QUICKSAND

SEVEN WORKMEN LOSE LIVES NEAR IRON RIVER, MICH.

Seven men were killed in the Balkan Mine at Alpha, near Iron River, Mich., Tuesday night when a bed of quicksand caved in from the roof of a drift, and it is said that it will require a month or longer to recover the bodies.
The men killed were: BATISTA BATTAN, aged 40, married; DOMINCO BEVOTAN, 28, single; ANTOINE BOSCHI, 40, single; JACOB MAKI, 27, single; VICTOR PALLAORA, 22, single; DIMITAR RADAOVITCH, 45, married; and BATESTA ROSSI, 25, single.
A crew of nine were working in a drift drilling into the roof to tap a bed of water so that it could be drained and the mine dried out. Suddenly the drill went through a strata of iron and the drill was shot out as though from the barrel of a rifle, followed by a stream of quicksand. In another instant the whole roof gave in and an avalanche of quicksand poured into the mine, filling every crevice. The crew ran for the shaft 300 feet away, but seven were caught by the onrushing quicksand and buried alive. Two reached the ladder in the shaft and escaped. The second man was buried almost to his shoulders but pulled himself up the ladder, stripping him of his boots and clothes as he did so.

FIVE DEAD IN WRECK ON INTERURBAN
OTHERS SUFFER PERHAPS FATAL INJURIES—
ACCIDENT OCCURS LATE SATURDAY AFTERNOON
BRAKES FAILED TO WORK—STEEL CAR CRASHES INTO WOODEN CAR

Chelsea, Mich. June 20—The death Sunday of MISS VINA JOHNSON, brought the toll of the wreck here Saturday night to five. A score of others are suffering severe injuries and one or two may die. Those killed Saturday when the second section of a westbound limited on the Detroit-Jackson and Chicago road crashed into the first section were:
MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR C. PIERCE, HIGHLAND PARK.
MRS. EMMA SCARFF, DETROIT.
MISS ELIZABETH KUESCH of CHELSEA
The more seriously injured included:
ELMER KOEBHE and MRS. LAURA SCHOENBALS, both suffering from internal injuries and in critical condition at their homes here.
EDWIN F. LEE, of HILLSDALE, suffering from internal injuries, head cuts and bruises, in St. Joseph's sanitarium, Ann Arbor.
MAY CRIQUE, 13 YEAR OLD JACKSON GIRL, severe head injuries and possibly fractured skull at St. Joseph's sanitarium.
WILBUR ANDERSON of ANN ARBOR who is suffering from broken ribs and severe bruises, in St. Joseph's sanitarium there.
Nearly s score of others received minor injuries.
It is probable the bodies of MR. AND MRS. PIERCE will be buried in Chelsea, their former home, although they have lived in Highland Park for several years. The body of MRS. EMMA SCARFF, which was positively identified Sunday, will be taken to Detroit for burial.
Motorman WINCHELL, who was in charge of the second section of the limited, blames the accident on the failure of his brakes to to work. The first section had gone into the Warsaw siding to await an eastbound car, and the second section was to have fallen in behind. The switch had not been thrown by the first section crew, while they talked to the dispatcher at Ypsilanti on the telephone, it is said, and the second section swung into the siding at considerable speed. When the brakes refused to work, Motorman WINCHELL declares he attempted to reverse his car but was too late. The second section was of steel construction and withstood the force of the impact, but the first section was a wooden car which crumbled. Passengers in the rear of the wooden car had no chance to escape, it is declared. They were hurled from their seats, cut by flying glass and pieces of framework and even those who escaped serious injury suffered bruises. Motorman WINCHELL and Conductor LYONS of the second section and the crew of the first section will be among the witnesses summoned to the inquest. The announcement was made Sunday evening by officials of the Detroit, Jackson & Chicago road that an official investigation into the circumstances of the Chelsea wreck Saturday evening, will be begun in Detroit Monday morning. It had been impossible to act previously because of the condition of Motorman WINCHELL, who has been suffering severely from nervous shock, as well as from cuts and bruises. The crews of both cars will be called upon for complete statements and testimony will also be taken from passengers.

REV. FRIEDRICH SCHMID'S BAPTISMAL RECORDS, 1847–1875, WASHTENAW COUNTY, MICHIGAN
(Part Twenty-Nine)

Translated & transcribed by Rob and Cyndy Steward, 2021

The original records of Rev. Friedrich Schmid are currently housed and may be accessed in The Michigan Historical Collections, Bentley Historical Library, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Please note that the handwriting of Rev. Schmid is not easily deciphered, in part due to his penmanship. The records contain entries written in old German script and some using English script. In addition, the pages in his records are not numbered. It is our understanding that he kept notes as he traveled and then entered them into his record books when he returned home. This may explain that while the records are fairly complete there are some gaps or omissions. His handwriting greatly deteriorated beginning in 1873.

We have maintained the spelling Rev. Schmid used in the case of names. Items enclosed in parentheses are usually comments or notes of the translators or indicate alternate spellings. The term "geb." in relation to a female name, refers to "born as" or maiden name. A "+" at the beginning or end of a line indicates the person is deceased. "Unehl." indicates that the parents were not married to each other at the time of the baptism.

Rev. Schmid's Baptismal Records are in column format as follows:
(Left hand pages – a.) "Chronological Number" of the child for that particular year; Name of Child; Parents Names; Place; Birth Date.
(Right hand pages – b.) Baptismal Date and Place; Sponsors Names (sometimes marital status or relationship of the sponsors are listed).
Columns with no entry or missing information are indicated by three hyphens (---).
